CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS FINALLY REST IN PEACE:

Discovered two years ago in graves unearthed at a construction site, the remains of 61 Civil War – era veterans and three civilians were re-interred at Southern Arizona Veterans Memorial Cemetery in Sierra Vista, Arizona on May 16th. The caskets were escorted along their route by the American Legion Riders, the Arizona Highway Patrol, U.S. Border patrol and other Civil War & patriotic organizations. A memorial ceremony honored 22 California Volunteers who fought during the Civil War & 39 regular Army troops who served at various times between 1866 & 1881. The remains included those of three Army Indian scouts and one unknown Civil War veteran from the U.S. Colored Troops. Many of the remains belonged to soldiers who were part of the California Column, a 2,300-man brigade that marched into the territory from California in 1862. Their mission was to confront Confederate troops and drive them out of the southern part of what is now Arizona & New Mexico. Troops from the California Column occupied Tucson in 1862 and various California units were stationed there until 1866. Other remains represent the 1st, 3rd and 6th U.S. Cavalry regiments , as well as the 8th, 21st & 32nd U.S. Infantry who served at Fort Lowell from the late 1860's to the 1880's. Soldier's from nearby Fort Huachuca helped to carry the troops remains – in small, U.S. flag-draped coffins – to a ceremonial staging area, Arizona's official balladeer, Dolan Ellis, sang “ Amazing Grace,” and Joe Joaquin said a prayer in his native Indian language. The 4th Cavalry Regimental Band provided music for the memorial ceremony, which was hosted by the “SONS OF UNION VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR”. The Department of California & Pacific took a prominent role in the ceremonies, with a number of Sons and Auxiliary members making the journey to Arizona to Participate. -
