NEWTON EARP IN NORTHERN NEVADA IN THE 1880'S

By John A. Riggs, Camp Commander

There are some interesting historical note's on Nevada Lawmen that few people know about in Nevada. Nevada had two Earp family members who graced the Northern part of our state in the 1880's as lawmen. A half brother of the other Earp's, by the name of Newton Earp, moved to Paradise Valley, Humboldt Co., NV with his wife and children in 1887. With his wife Nancy and two boys Virgil Edwin and Wyatt Clyde Earp, they settled there and Newton was elected Constable of Paradise Valley. Previously, Newton had been marshal of Garden City, KS. Once elected, he appointed his son Wyatt Clyde Earp as deputy. Sometime prior to 1900 Newton's wife Nancy passed away, possibly in 1898 and she was buried in an unmarked or lost grave in Paradise Valley. No death certificate seems to have been filed so actual proof positive is unknown on dates or location. Nancy and Newton's son, Wyatt Clyde Earp on May 5, 1899, married a young Nevada lady by the name of Jennie Irene Lambert. Their other son, Virgil Edwin Earp, moved to Reno, NV and became an automobile salesman. More later on the Earp family in Nevada.

150TH ANNIVERSARY OF NEVADA VOLUNTEERS

2013 will be the 150th anniversary of the Nevada Volunteers. On April 2, 1863, General George Wright, Commander of the Department of the Pacific told Nevada's acting governor Orion Clemens that the War Department had authorized him to raise volunteer companies in Nevada to help protect the Overland Mail route. Eventually 1088 men would serve in six cavalry companies and three infantry companies. When the war ended, some Nevada troops were fighting Indians with California and Michigan troops as far away as Wyoming. Some of us have been discussing the possibility of doing a little research and having a commemoration next year.

The Commander also accompanied Brother David on his exploration of the Sattley and Sierra Ville Cemeteries.

However, there seems to be some difficulties in obtaining the actual Medal for display in the Elko Museum. Finally the next meeting will be announced by the Commander which will include, at that meeting, the intentions of Brothers to run for Camp positions in December and subsequent elections.
- 8). Closing Prayer offered by Brother Tyrone and the meeting concluded at 1445 Hrs..

HISTORY AND MEMORIALS REPORT

David A. Davis, SUVCW Gen. William Passmore Carlin Camp 25 Camp Historian/Civil War Memorials Officer.

SATTLEY AND SIERRAVILLE CEMETERIES

July 1, 2012

Commander John Riggs, Senior Vice Commander (SVC)/Historian David A. Davis, PCC, and Jenny Davis met Truckee Historian Chaun Mortier and her friend Lynne at Sattley on the southwest edge of Sierra Valley, California. They knew the obscure way up into the woods to the Sattley cemetery. We noted some definite and potential Civil War veterans buried there. One marker was of a member of the G.A.R. The nearby town of Loyaltan had the G.A.R. South Mountain Post No. 117.

After visiting the Sattley Cemetery, we revisited the Sierraville Cemetery and found some more Civil War veterans that we had overlooked in a previous visit including an obvious Confederate veteran.

FLAG AT INDIAN VALLEY MUSEUM, TAYLORSVILLE, CALIFORNIA

July 14, 2012

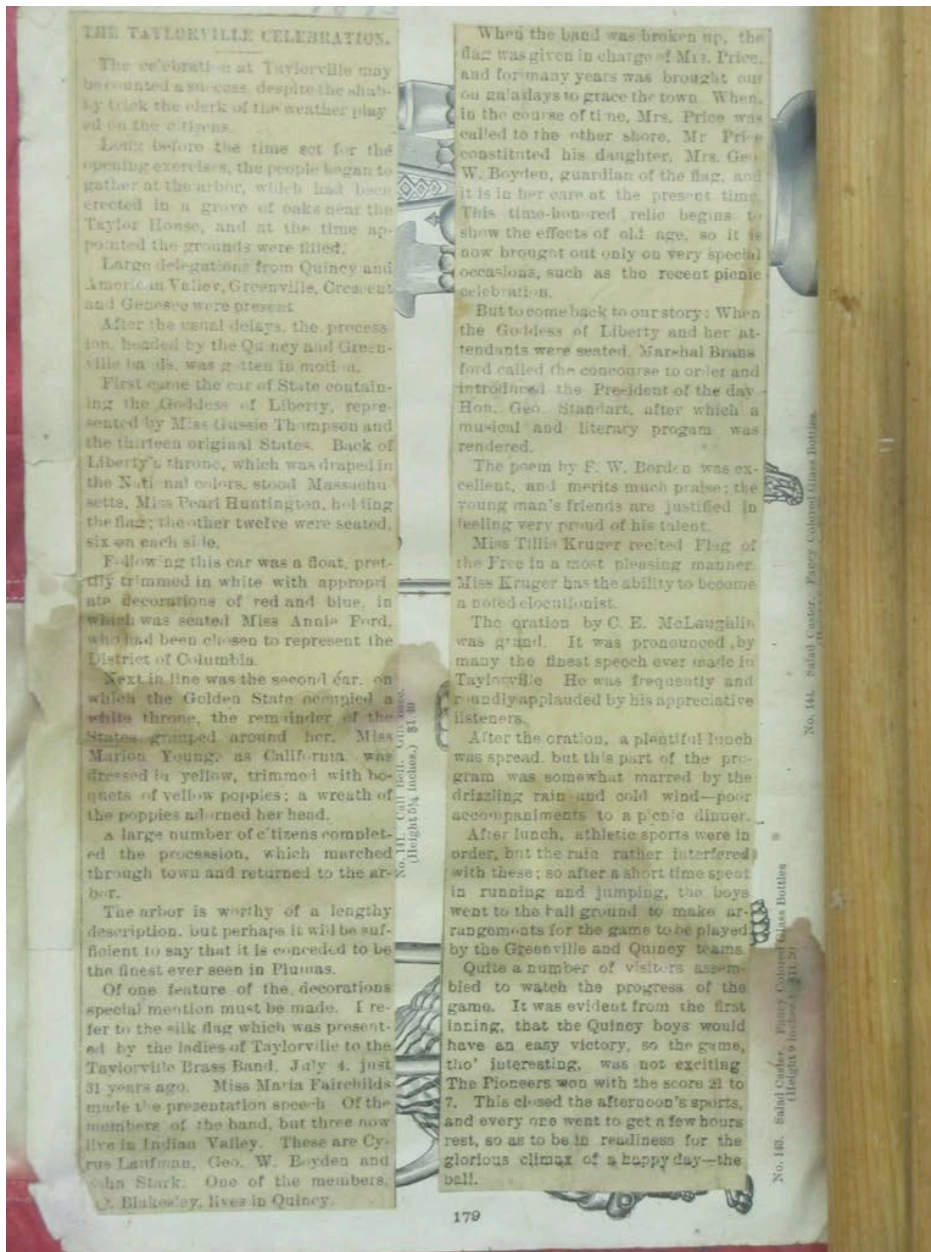

SVC/Historian David A. Davis and Patriotic Instructor Tyrone Davis visited the Indian Valley Museum in Taylorsville, California, on during a recent camping trip. A newspaper article in the display case describes a little of the history of the flag and it was apparently locally produced and presented to the local drum and bugle corps. It contains 36 stars and is dated to 1864, hence the 36 star represents Nevada. Nevada became a state on October 31, 1864, and the new state stars were not officially put on the national flag until the following Independence Day – July 4, 1865 in the case of Nevada. However, it appears stars were unofficially added to flags as states came into existence, and this is likely one of the early birds if the 1864 date is correct.

According to various Internet sites, this referred as a “Great Star Flag”. It was not an official flag, but the design was popular from almost the beginning of the country.

We also visited the Taylorsville Cemetery. It has some burials of people old enough to have been in the Civil War, and a map at the museum notes a number of now unmarked graves.

THE TAYLORVILLE CELEBRATION.

The celebration at Taylorville may be counted a success, despite the shabby trick the clerk of the weather played on the citizens.

Long before the time set for the opening exercises, the people began to gather at the arbor, which had been erected in a grove of oaks near the Taylor House, and at the time appointed the grounds were filled.

Large delegations from Quincy and American Valley, Greenville, Crescent and Genesee were present.

After the usual delays, the procession, headed by the Quincy and Greenville bands, was gotten in motion.

First came the car of State containing the Goddess of Liberty, represented by Miss Bessie Thompson and the thirteen original States. Back of Liberty's throne, which was draped in the National colors, stood Massachusetts, Miss Pearl Huntington, holding the flag; the other twelve were seated, six on each side.

Following this car was a float, prettily trimmed in white with appropriate decorations of red and blue, in which was seated Miss Annie Ford, who had been chosen to represent the District of Columbia.

Next in line was the second car, on which the Golden State occupied a white throne, the remainder of the States grouped around her. Miss Marion Young, as California, was dressed in yellow, trimmed with bouquets of yellow poppies; a wreath of the poppies adorned her head.

A large number of citizens completed the procession, which marched through town and returned to the arbor.

The arbor is worthy of a lengthy description, but perhaps it will be sufficient to say that it is conceded to be the finest ever seen in Plumas.

Of one feature of the decorations special mention must be made. I refer to the silk flag which was presented by the ladies of Taylorville to the Taylorville Brass Band, July 4, just 31 years ago. Miss Maria Fairchild made the presentation speech. Of the members of the band, but three now live in Indian Valley. These are Cyrus Laufman, Geo. W. Boyden and John Stark. One of the members, J. Blakesley, lives in Quincy.

When the band was broken up, the flag was given in charge of Mrs. Price, and for many years was brought out on gala days to grace the town. When, in the course of time, Mrs. Price was called to the other shore, Mr. Price constituted his daughter, Mrs. Geo. W. Boyden, guardian of the flag, and it is in her care at the present time.

This time-honored relic begins to show the effects of old age, so it is now brought out only on very special occasions, such as the recent picnic celebration.

But to come back to our story: When the Goddess of Liberty and her attendants were seated, Marshal Bransford called the concourse to order and introduced the President of the day—Hon. Geo. Standart, after which a musical and literary program was rendered.

The poem by F. W. Borden was excellent, and merits much praise; the young man's friends are justified in feeling very proud of his talent.

Miss Tillie Kruger recited Flag of the Free in a most pleasing manner. Miss Kruger has the ability to become a noted elocutionist.

The oration by C. E. McLaughlin was grand. It was pronounced by many the finest speech ever made in Taylorville. He was frequently and handsomely applauded by his appreciative listeners.

After the oration, a plentiful lunch was spread, but this part of the program was somewhat marred by the drizzling rain and cold wind—poor accompaniments to a picnic dinner.

After lunch, athletic sports were in order, but the rain rather interfered with these; so after a short time spent in running and jumping, the boys went to the ball ground to make arrangements for the game to be played by the Greenvilles and Quincy teams.

Quite a number of visitors assembled to watch the progress of the game. It was evident from the first inning, that the Quincy boys would have an easy victory, so the game, tho' interesting, was not exciting. The Pioneers won with the score 21 to 7. This closed the afternoon's sports, and every one went to get a few hours rest, so as to be in readiness for the glorious climax of a happy day—the ball.

FORT RUBY

July 21, 2012

SVC/Historian David A. Davis and Patriotic Instructor Tyrone Davis visited the site of Fort Ruby during a recent camping trip. The site is blocked off, but the remains of one of the buildings can be seen in the distance. The site is marked an E. Clampus Vitus plaque. The fort was in operation from 1862 to 1869, and an earlier report was given on a flag at State Archives that was once at the fort.

CHERRY CREEK, NEVADA

July 22, 2012

During the trip in which Fort Ruby was visited, Cherry Creek was also visited. Cherry Creek apparently had about 1500 people in its early mining days, but today may have about a hundred people living in a cluster of trailers and decaying buildings. The cemetery was visited and a few Civil War veterans were noted and the graves photographed. The information was sent to our Graves Registration Officer, Don Huffman. Cherry Creek had the G.A.R. Colonel Baker Post No. 13 in the early 1880s.

PIOCHE, NEVADA

July 23, 2012

During the trip in which Fort Ruby was visited, Pioche was also visited. The local Lincoln County Museum had a 36-star Great Star flag similar to the one at Taylorsville. It was also locally made, but the museum had no history on it. The cemeteries were also briefly visited. A number of graves are for people old enough to have been in the Civil War, but none were marked as such. They will need to be researched further. Pioche had the G.A.R. Baker Post No. 11 in the early 1870s. The post name suggests a possible connection with the later Colonel Baker Post No. 13 noted for Cherry Creek.

GOLD HILL CEMETERY

August 4, 2012

Commander John Riggs and (SVC)/Historian David A. Davis, attended the rededication of a tombstone for the grave of two brothers who died in a snowstorm on Christmas eve in 1871. Their tombstone was stolen in 1978 and recently returned. After the service and reception, we revisited the Gold Hill Cemeteries and took some pictures of the tombstones of people of the right age to have been in the Civil War and retook pictures of Civil War veterans' markers that had not come out when we photographed them on a visit months ago.

SONS OF UNION VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR

In 1866, Union Veterans of the Civil War organized into the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR) and became a social and political force that would control the destiny of the nation for more than six decades. Membership in the veterans' organization was restricted to individuals who had served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Revenue Cutter Service during the Civil War, thereby limiting the life span of the GAR. The GAR existed until 1956.

In 1881 the GAR formed the Sons of Veterans of the United States of America (SV) to carry on its traditions and memory long after the GAR had ceased to exist. Membership was open to any man who could prove ancestry to a member of the GAR or to a veteran eligible for membership in the GAR. In later years, men who did not have the ancestry to qualify for hereditary membership, but who demonstrated a genuine interest in the Civil War and could subscribe to the purpose and objectives of the SUVCW, were admitted as Associates. This practice continues today.

Many GAR Posts sponsored Camps of the SV. In 1925 the SV name was changed to Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War (SUVCW), under which its federal charter was issued in 1954. The SUVCW is legally recognized as the heir to, and representative of, the GAR.

Today, the National Organization of the SUVCW, headed by an annually elected Commander-in-Chief, oversees the operation of 26 Departments, each consisting of one or more states, a Department-at-Large, a National Membership-at-Large, and over 200 community based Camps. More than 6,360 men enjoy the benefits of membership in the only male organization dedicated to the principles of the GAR -- Fraternity, Charity, and Loyalty. The SUVCW National Headquarters is located in the National Civil War Museum in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
